The Long Island International Film Expo has just been named one of the 25 Coolest Film Festivals in the world for 2013 by MovieMaker Magazine. This year the winners were chosen by the readers of MovieMaker Magazine based on their own personal experiences and opinions.

“The Long Island International Film Expo is yet another way we market and promote Nassau County as a filming destination,” said Nassau County Executive Edward Mangano. “By having filmmakers from all over the globe attend, we are able to show them available filming sites as well as generate dollars for our local economy.”

LIIFE will be held from July 9 to 17 at the Bellmore Movies and will include screenings of hundreds of short and feature-length independent films as well as documentaries, animations, student films, and music videos. There are panels with industry experts, celebrities in attendance, parties, filmmaker Q and A’s, and networking opportunities for those in the industry or film enthusiasts in general.
